

Time is so short this year we decided to do a note to everyone:

John is still working at Freightcorp, but the workshop has closed and he is biding his time until his 30 years is up next January. He travels to Enfield each day and works on trains up there, he spends his spare time working with the football club.

Helen is heavily involved with the implementation of GST and has been away in Melbourne for 3 months and Penrith until the end of February.

Evan works casually driving paper deliveries and spends his spare time on the internet chatting.

Patrick has scored an apprenticeship with a plasterer, he has given up his job at Burger King and spends his spare time socialising and playing/training for Shellharbour.

We are looking for someone to have an 8 week holiday in August and come to Shellharbour and look after the boys while we are in Europe - any takers???

The family history has taken a back step for the time being as work has taken up so much time.

You can email us at: hcastle@ozemail.com.au and have a look at the family as I have researched it at: www.ozemail.com.au/~hcastle. If you see an entry you don't like or object to having your info on the internet please let me know as I would be happy to remove anything that offends.

Merry Xmas & A happy New Year from:
